Brentwood/Montbazon Town Twinning Association

In 1994, Brentwood, England and Montbazon, France made an alliance and vowed to nurture and cultivate cultural and business links in the spirit of good neighbours. We are now looking for new supporters to further those links ...

In 991, friars of Corméry complained to the King of France that Fulk Nerra (Lord of Anjou) was building a fortress in their land of Montbazon. He went on to become Lord of Montbazon in 997 despite only being 17 years old. From 994, the lofty fortress dominated a strategic point on the Indre river ...

The town of Montbazon is in the heart of the Loire Valley, 10 km south of Tours. The area is famous for its historic châteaux, rivers and wines. The 20th anniversary of the Twinning was celebrated at the beautiful Chateau d'Artigny, pictured right.

The Association is an independent, non-political and financially self-supporting organisation for people of all ages who want to develop friendships, both in Brentwood and in Montbazon.

Why get involved?

Every other year, members from Brentwood have the opportunity to visit their counterparts in Montbazou, staying with matched hosts for five nights. A varied programme of events and visits is organised for their entertainment. In the alternate years, members from Montbazou make a reciprocal visit to Brentwood.

In addition, the Social Committee of the Town Twinning Association organises regular social and fund-raising events, such as:

- Traditional French Fête des Rois meals;
- Talks; Quiz nights;
- French film nights;
- Coffee mornings; Walks;
- Conversation sessions (all levels of French)
